

Journal Quaestio Iuris

Editorial for vol. 12-4 (2019)

The Journal Quaestio Iuris, indexed in the Web of Science, quarterly, in this volume 12, number 04, 2019, is pleased to inform all its readers that the Journal Quaestio Iuris has been classified by CARHUS Plus + as a Level A Journal in the area of Law. (http://agaur.gencat.cat/web/.content/Documents/CARHUS/CARHUS_2018/Carhus_tal_cast2018.pdf).

CARHUS Plus + is a classification system for scientific journals in the areas of Social and Human Sciences that are published locally, nationally and internationally. This project is developed by AGAUR under the proposal of the General Research Directorate of the Generalitat de Catalunya, Spain.

CARHUS Plus + characterizes scientific journals at four levels, according to their quality: A, B, C and D. To belong to group A, journals must appear on the Web of Science or Scopus and must be within 35% of the journals best classified by impact factor or, failing that, by the Secondary Diffusion Compound Index (ICDS).

The journal is also pleased to publish the article “Cultural indicators of personal development and wellbeing in Mexico, Spain and Germany: a proposal for construction through feedback networks”, by Jerjes Aguirre Ochoa, PhD in Management of Organizations. Senior Professor at the Michoacana University of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico; and Jaime Bravo Déctor, PhD student in Public Policy at the Institute for Economic and Business Research at the Michoacana University of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico.

The article “Cultural indicators of personal development and wellbeing in Mexico, Spain and Germany: a proposal for construction through feedback networks” discusses the main proposals for the construction of cultural indicators in Mexico, Spain and Germany and compares them to the indicators used for the collection of cultural statistics. It is made clear by the research that individual indicators of development and well-being have not been developed, or at least not at a plausible level for their application, although two decades have passed since Pattanaik proposed them for the area of culture. The article offers a distinct development proposal to address this problem, more viable for the entities responsible for culture in their territories, with the capacity to measure the impact of cultural actions implemented by individuals and with a greater probability of obtaining results that allow the analysis and evaluation of such actions.

In the same way as in the previous numbers, in this volume 12, number 04, 2019, we published 21 (twenty-one) unpublished articles, 06 (six) of which are foreign articles: the aforementioned “Cultural indicators of personal development and wellbeing in Mexico, Spain and Germany: a proposal for construction through feedback networks”, by Jerjes Aguirre Ochoa, PhD in Management of Organizations. Senior Professor at the Michoacana University of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico; and Jaime Bravo Déctor, PhD student in Public Policy at the Institute for Economic and Business Research at the Michoacana University of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico; “From the documentary test in Rome to the Grafotecnia of the XXI century: the objectivation of the documentary test in the spanish judicial process”, by Miriam Martín Paciente, Graduated in Law at UPGC. Postgraduate in International and Community Taxation, USC, Master in Access to Law at UNED. Collaborator in the field of Roman Law, UPGC, Spain; “Legal anthropology”, by Benjamín Rivaya, Professor of Philosophy of Law at the University of Oviedo, Spain. Dean of the Faculty of Law of the University of Oviedo between 2012 and 2016; “Discipline and Punish in biopolitical key: the incorporeal as a reading guide”, by Luciana Alvarez, PhD in Law with a Mention in Philosophy of Law. University professor, UNCuyo Faculty of Law, Professor of Philosophy of Law and Introduction to Philosophy, Argentina, by Silvana Paola Vignale, PhD in Philosophy, Adjunct Researcher at CONICET, Argentina, by Emiliano Jacky, Doctor in Social Sciences at the National University of Cuyo (PhD in Social Sciences-FCPyS-UNCUYO). Researcher at the Institute of Investigations Gino Germani of the Faculty of Social Sciences at UBA, Argentina and Franco Palermo, Lawyer. Specialist and Master in Judiciary and Judicial Management, National University of Cuyo, 2017. Specialist in Criminal Execution and Penitentiary Law, University of Barcelona; “Legal ontology and queer theory: toward (the failure of) the revolt”, by Daniel J. García-López,

Degree and Doctorate in Law from the University of Almería. Professor of Philosophy of Law at the University of Granada, Spain; “Citizen perception of the democratic legitimacy of the Chávez-Madurist regime in Venezuela; international organizations and doctrine”, by Socorro Márquez Regalado, a Mexican academic, currently works as a Full-time Research Professor at the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Autonomous University of Chihuahua, Mexico, by Abraham Paniagua Vázquez, Mexican Academic, Doctor in Social Sciences with specialty in Politics, Government and Public Affairs, currently serves as a Full-time Research Professor and Director (2016-2020) of the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Autonomous University of Chihuahua, Mexico, by Román René Medrano Carrasco, Mexican Academic, has two master's degrees, one in Political Communication and Electoral Marketing and the other in Journalism. Graduated in journalism, currently works as a Full-time Research Professor at the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Autonomous University of Chihuahua, Mexico and José Humberto Medrano Carrasco, Mexican academic, Master in Marketing, currently serves as a Full-time Research Professor at the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Autonomous University of Chihuahua and Director of the Instituto Educativo Cuauhtémoc AC, Mexico.

We also published in our Monographs Section a study called Between Kant and Negri: a path from cosmopolitanism to "comumpolitismo", by Fernando Hoffmam, Doctor and Master in Public Law at the University of Vale do Rio dos Sinos (UNISINOS); PROEX / CAPES Scholarship; Member of the State and Constitution Research Group and of the State and Constitution Interinstitutional Research Network, linked to the FDV / ES, ESDHC / MG and CNPQ; Assistant Professor I of the Law Course at the Franciscan University (UFN), Rio Grande do Sul.

In our Essays Section, we published 04 (four) essays, of which 02 (three) essays on public policies: “The extension of the Brazilian continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles: opportunities and challenges” and “Hermeneutical possibilities for the judicial appreciation of administrative unconstitutional omissions : the control of unconstitutionality omissions in contemporary constitutionalism. ”

In this issue of the journal, we maintained our body of our referees / evaluators, from countless states in the country and foreign professors, in a total of more than 650 (six hundred and fifty) evaluating reviewers. We also publish, for immediate consultation of readers, the links to the various national and international indexes of journals and periodicals where our Journal Quaestio Iuris is indexed. We thank, as always, all readers, authors, reviewers and collaborators for their collaboration and trust and for the always excellent work done. We always remember that submissions to the Journal Quaestio Iuris are permanent and must be made through the system, directly on the journal's page.

Good reading to all!

Mauricio Mota

Editor of Journal Quaestio Iuris