

JOURNAL OF CITY LAW*EDITORIAL FOR VOL. 13-4 (2021)

The Journal of City Law, journal classified by MEC/CAPES as Qualis A1, Law and registered in the Web of Science, in this issue number 04, volume 13, 2021, is pleased to inform that the article MELLO, C. A. "Right to housing and judicial conciliation of collective land tenure conflicts: the experience of Porto Alegre", publicado no volume 09, número 04, pp. 2072/2098, da Revista de Direito da Cidade (2017). <https://doi.org/10.12957/rdc.2017.29663>, was cited in the article Ferreira D.B., Severo L. "Multiparty Mediation as Solution for Urban Conflicts: A Case Analysis from Brazil," published in BRICS Law Journal. 2021;8(3): 5-29, and available at: <https://www.bricslawjournal.com/jour/article/view/535>.

In this issue we publish the article "Access to ICTs in rural areas. Approach from the comparative perspective between Spain and the European Union" by Cristina Benlloch- Doménech, PhD in Social Sciences, professor at the University of Valencia, Spain. In this article, the author analyzes some of the differences in the use and access to new technologies between rural and urban areas, based on the ICT Equipment survey in a comparative perspective between Spain and the European Union, with the possible inequalities that this may cause for the development of the technologization of these environments. One of the conclusions reached is that the differences between one and another context (rural and urban) are increasingly smaller, but that the demographic composition may be a key factor for the greater expansion of ICT in rural contexts.

As in previous issues, in the current volume 13, number 03, we are publishing 16 (sixteen) unpublished articles, with 04 articles by foreign professors: the already mentioned "Access to ICTs in rural areas. Approach from the comparative perspective between Spain and the European Union" by Cristina Benlloch-Domenech, PhD in social sciences, professor at the University of Valencia, Spain; "Individual access possibilities in the Universal System for the Protection of Human Rights: IACHR, I / A Court HR, the European System and the African System" by Maria Fatima Pinho de Oliveira, Adjunct Professor at the Department of Service Technology. Specialist and Master in Criminal Law, and PhD in Political Science from Simón Bolívar University, Venezuela and Amelia Adriana Marin Herrera, Bachelor in International Studies. Specialist in International Law and Politics (UCV). Master in International Economic Negotiations (ULAC). Professor at the Latin American and Caribbean University. Doctoral student in Public International Law at the Latin American and Caribbean University (ULAC), Venezuela; "Relationship between quality of life and urban tree distribution in Bogotá: a perspective from urban environmental justice" by José Mario Mayorga Henao, Sociologist. PhD student in Geography. Specialist in Statistics. Expert in Urban Law. Master in Urban Planning, Master in Geography, National University of Colombia, Colombia and Diego Felipe Lopez, Economist. Specialist in Urban and Regional Economics, Applied Statistics and Rural Development. Master in Public Administration, Colombia and "Strategies for the recovery of vacant land in the city of Toluca. Prospective of urban planning" by Carlos David Sánchez Muñoz, PhD candidate in Urbanism, Master in Law with Honors Degree, Professor of Environmental Law at the Technological Institute of Tenango, Professor of Labor and Civil Law at the Center for Legal Studies of the State of Mexico, Mexico.

In our Essays Section we published four (04) unpublished essays, three of them on the right to the city: "The loss of the right to the city and cynical reason: the naturalization of the image representation of the city", "Sustainable development goals (SDGs), public policies for mitigating violence and the right to safe city" e "Urban policies and urban expansion of Lavras-MG: the right to city in dispute".

In this issue of the journal we have maintained our body of reviewers/evaluators, from many states of the country and also from many foreign countries, in a total of more than 420 reviewers/evaluators.

We also publish, for the immediate consultation of our readers, the links to the various national and international indexers of Journals and periodicals where our Journal of City Law is indexed.

We thank, as always, all readers, authors, reviewers and collaborators for their collaboration and trust and for the always excellent work done. We always remind you that submissions to the Journal of City Law are permanent and must be made through the system, directly on the journal's page.

Good reading to all!
